

Tomorrow, March 8 at 12 p.m., UCI Dispatch and Emergency Management will be testing our zotALERT emergency notification system.

This is only a test, and no further action will be required. The zotAlert notification will be distributed via SMS, email, Alertus Classroom Beacons, and designated desktop monitors, reaching the entire campus community as part of our routine preparedness measures. The text in this alert will read:

"This is a test of the zotALERT Emergency Notification System. This is only a test, and no further action is required."

In the event of an actual emergency during this time, a separate notification will be sent which will contain the nature of the event, instructions, and official emergency information.

To sign up for zotAlerts, please visit the zotALERT Registration Portal.

For questions, please contact Randy Styner, UCI's Director of Emergency Management, at 949-824-7147 or reply to this message.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause and thank you for participating in this test.